500 Paper Makers Strike at Oregon City

Oregon City, Or., June 2.—Five hundred paper makers and machine tenders of the Crown Willamette Paper company are out on a strike here today and the big mill with a daily capacity of over 300 tons of news print is idle as far as the production of paper is concerned. The pulp, finishing and other departments of the plant are working.

A committee of 24 men will meet R. T. McElin, mill manager, today or tomorrow. The trouble was caused by the dismissal of Roy Ott, president of the recently organized union of paper makers.

Pulp workers will organize tomorrow.

KIDNAPED BABY IS NOT YET RECOVERED

Kidnapers It Is Believed Tried To Get In Touch With the Father Last Night

Springfield, Mo., June 2.—The kidnaped 14 months old son of James Holland Keet, millionaire Springfield banker, is still missing today, but early this morning an attempt was made by the kidnapers to get into touch with Keet, police believe.

Shortly after 1 o'clock a small boy stealthily approached the Keet home. The banker answered the doorbell and took the message, read it and disappeared in the house. A few minutes later he opened the garage door, gaped out his yellow rooster and hurried away. Two hours he was back—without the child.

Judge Arch Johnson of the Greene county criminal court also received a mysterious telephone call shortly after midnight. He left his home hurriedly and early today his family had heard nothing from him. He has been assisting actively in the search for the abducted boy.

The roads around Springfield are impassable, made so by unusually heavy rains. Keet's failure to make another trip last night is attributed to this. Mrs. Keet is said to be in a critical condition. The curtains are drawn at the home and no one, not even intimate friends are allowed to call.

Keet today denied authorization of the $5,000 reward for the return of the child. "I have not offered the reward," he said. "Not that I would not give gladly ten times that amount, but because his abductors will not think I am playing square if I make such an offer. I want my son back and if money will bring him, they can have the money."

High School Glee Club Will Give Concert at Armory Wednesday

The Salem high school has a glee club and those who belong as well as others think it is a good idea. It will give a concert at the armory next Wednesday evening and this is what two of the writers in the high school think about it.

We of Salem high school are very proud of our glee club and that is the reason we want all the Salem people to come to the Armory, June 6th and hear the first annual concert.

There is a chorus of one hundred and twenty voices of which we are exceptionally proud and we are sure that every person in Salem would enjoy the selections given by it.

Then there are other pleasing features. Archie Smith who is a favorite with Salem audiences has a prominent place on the program. Agnes Hulzell who never fails to please with her beautiful mezzo soprano also has a solo part.

Then both the boys' and girls' quartets are sure to please you. "All this for the price of 10 cents. Everybody come."

The Armory, June 6th.

—Lucy Leonard

High School Concert

The First Annual Concert of the music department of the Salem high school is to be given at the Armory next Wednesday evening (June 6) at 8:15. This is something worth listening to. The people that visited the High School last Thursday evening saw and heard the chorus. I'm sure they will be glad of a chance to hear it again. Those that did not hear it ought surely to come if they wish to know and appreciate what the students of Salem high school are doing.

The chorus is composed of one hundred and twenty voices. The songs that Miss Magers (director) has selected for the chorus are very pretty and interesting. There is a wide variety, both comical and serious so that everyone will find the program that has been planned for the evening very entertaining. A small admission will be charged, namely to pay the expenses.

Margaret Garrison Wins Interstate Contest

The ringing of the campus bell last night was an announcement to Willamette University students that Miss Margaret Garrison had won the interstate oratory contest, held in Los Angeles at the University of Southern California.

The news was received in a telegram to President Doney from Helen Miller and she had coached her. Having won all Pacific competitors, Miss Garrison is now entitled to enter the national contest to be held in Washington, D. C., this summer. The contests are held under the direction of the Interstate College prohibition association.

Each state holds its contest, the country being divided into districts. Miss Garrison won the inter-collegiate contest held at McMinnville in which all the principal colleges of Oregon were represented. Cash prizes are given the winners in each contest.

Negroes Help Whites Lynch Negro Murderer

Columbia, Miss., June 2.—Pratt Hampton and Van Haynes, negroes, accused of murdering Reese Johnson, another negro, were taken out of jail here today by more than 100 negroes and a few whites and Haynes was hanged from a steel bridge.

Hampton jumped out of the automobile one mile from the jail and raced into nearby woods. Scores of shots were fired at the fleeing negro, but some are believed to have taken effect.

Liberty Notes

A large crowd enjoyed the graduation exercises at the hall Thursday night, and Liberty can indeed be proud of her talent. The primary room under Miss Catherine Fowle gave "Mary and Her Garden." A flower bed full of little folks dressed to represent different flowers was a beautiful picture and was indeed a credit to the teacher.

Miss Maybelle Wagner, teacher in the interior room, presented "The Sleeping Beauty." Albert Boock was William sleeping beauty, and William Mooney the prince. Each part was well played and especially were the little fairies enjoyed.

Prof. Matthews of Salem, then gave a very interesting talk to the graduating class and the parents. "Our thoughts are an index to our character."

Earl Mooney gave the welcoming address to the parents.

Jacobena Schmitz, old of the aspirations of the class and Sara Henry made teachers and class mates good-bys.

Diplomas were presented to the following: Jacobena Schmitz, Hope Gilmer, Florence Bern, Buster McDonald, Theodore Meubitz, Earl Mooney, Carl Bern, Christena Schmitz, Anna Stevenson, John Gilmer, Sara Henry.

Archie Free and family motored to Portland Friday to attend the yearly convention of the Seventh-Day Adventists.

Mrs. Emma Davies, S. S. class met at P. L. Scott's, Saturday and spent a very pleasant and profitable afternoon sewing. There were about 14 present.

The Ladies Aid elected their new officers at last meeting held at the hall. Mrs. E. E. Roberts is president; Mrs. Scott vice-president; Mrs. Brooks secretary, and Mrs. Zozel treasurer. Next meeting will be some time next Fall at the call of the president.

Liberty is proud of her first aid class and a lively interest is taken. We have a very interesting teacher and we are all anxious to learn. Next Saturday night the lesson will be on "sprains and bruises, etc."

Mrs. Sara Rickabaugh has gone to Portland to spend a week with Mrs. Winnie Morris.

CARD OF THANKS

The family wishes to express their heartfelt gratitude for the many kind deeds and words of sympathy extended them during their late bereavement. We cannot enumerate them, but they will never be forgotten.—Mrs. J. S. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Emile Graber, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Barr.

GERMANY WANTS ISLAND

Washington, June 2.—The German government is making an effort to purchase or obtain control of the Island of Margarita, off the north coast of Venezuela for the purpose of establishing a submarine base. Authentic reports of this move reached the state department today.

State department officials refuse to discuss this latest phase of German activities in any way.

JAMES P. TERRY DROPS DEAD

Portland, Or., June 2.—James P. Terry, agent for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad at Auburn, Wash., dropped dead today in the office of Frank T. Collier. He was visiting in Portland on his way back to Auburn from San Francisco.

Coop the Mother Hen

Loss of Chicks by Exposure Largely Prevented by Confining the Hen

Washington, D. C., June 2.—It is not good poultry management to allow the mother hen to range unrestricted with her chicks. With such freedom the hen frequently takes her brood through wet grass and as a result, some are chilled and die, especially the weaker ones which are likely to be left behind. A loss of young chicks which follows such a practice is large and mainly preventable, specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture say.

Furthermore, food which a brood allowed to range with the hen obtains goes very largely to keep up the heat of the body and the chicks do not make as good growth as they otherwise would. Chick losses of this nature can be largely prevented by shutting the hen in a coop. Any style of coop which is dry, ventilated, and can be closed at night to protect the brood against cats, rats, and other animals, and which, while confining the hen, will allow the chicks to pass in and out freely after they are a few days old, will be satisfactory. The hen should be confined until the chicks are weaned, though some yard may be attached to the coop, if desired, to allow the hen to exercise. The fence can be raised from the ground far enough to allow the chicks to go in or out, but not high enough for the hen to escape. By using a coop the chicks can find shelter and warmth under the hen at any time and the weanlings, after a few days, may develop into strong healthy chicks.

Where chicks are raised with hens, they are liable to become infested with lice. If the lice get very numerous, they greatly hinder the chicks' growth and may even cause their death.

The hen should be powdered thoroughly with some good insect powder before she is put in the coop with the chicks, and at intervals of several days or a week thereafter. The baby chicks should be examined for lice, particularly on the head, under the wings and about the vent. If any are found, a little grease, such as lard, should be rubbed on in these places. Apply grease moderately, as too much will injure the chicks. The chicks should be examined frequently and the treatment repeated if lice are found on them.

Another Revolution Reported in Mexico

Laredo, Texas, June 2.—An American investor with credentials from the state department at Washington, seeking passports into Mexico, was advised today by the Mexican consul here not to make the trip on account of disorders in the state of San Luis Potosi, where the consul said Juan Soris is at the head of 6000 Carranza soldiers and 2000 insurgents in revolt against the Mexican government.

Soris was defeated at the recent election for governor of San Luis Potosi when the Carranza candidate was placed in office.
